100; Rock Island, 2,900; St. Paul, 17,400; Western Union, 5,900. The stock market was unsettled again yesterday. An active trading was in progress from the opening to the close, but it was mainly on the bear side, and the greater number of the stocks traded in showed a decline on the day ranging from 1/4 to 2% per cent., the heaviest loss being in Distillers'. Rumor was a large factor of the speculation and was used by the bears to depreciate the shares of the two leading industrial properties. Sugar was attacked under cover of a report that at next week's directors' meeting the dividend on the common stock would be reduced. This story found some believers and precipitated on the market a large amount of stock. The room traders also sold the shares, and within the first quar-ter of an hour Sugar had broken 2 per cent., to 1021/2. The lower range of prices brought in some buyers, and, the rumored dividend reduction being found to have no foundation, and being denied by the trust brokers, a steady recovery took place, which was followed by fractional reactions and rallies until after delivery hour, when a brisk buying movement was organized on what was believed to be a "straight tip," that the regular dividend would be declared next Tuesday. A quick rise ensued to 105, being a gain of 312 from the low point of the morning. Realization then set in, causing a reaction of %, the closing prices showing an advance of %, compared with the final sale yesterday. Distilling was neglected early in the morning, and moved within a range of &, but after midday a raid was made on the stock, which sent it down 2% from the best price of the morning. When the tariff bill went into effect leaving the greater part of the trust's goods in bond, a claim was set up that the increased tax could not be collected on spirits bonded before the law went into force. No serious attention was paid to this pretension, but on the strength of a private dispatch from the West, pointing out the absurdity of the claim, the drive against the stock of the Wednesday's closing. The general market opened steady, but soon became unsettled, gradually steadying, and at Il o'clock be coming strong, prices being fairly well held until about the middle of the afternoon. Then was developed a feeling of depression due largely to the fact that . ere were few, if any, supporting orders in the market, and a sharp reaction took place, in which Wheeling & Lake Erie preferred, the gran-gers, Cregon Improvement, Western Union, Louisville & Nashville and Chicago Gas were most prominent. After delivery hour a slight rally took place, which was mostly lost in the final trading, and the market closed weak. P., C., C. & St. L. preferred is down 1%, Luke Shore 14, Puliman and Burlington & Quincy 1. Some few shares show gains on the day.

The September Forum contains eleven papers of such variety that the reading man or woman who cannot find several in Disorders" with a cogency that touched the ire of the demagogic executive of Illinois. The second place is given to a paper by Dr. Rice devoted to the Indiana school excursion, a part of which has been published in the Journal. Prof. Peabody shows that a large proportion of preachers are college-trained. The always optimistic Edward Atkinson discusses "Present Industrial Problems in the Light of History," not failing to refer to his wonderful oil stove and his very cheap meals. The other articles are: "Results of the Parliament of Religions," by Rev. Dr. Barrows; "The Pay of Physicians," by Dr. Shrady; "Macauley's Place in History," by Frederic, Harrison; "Home Life in India—Child Marr and Widows," by Purushotam Rao Telang; "University Training and Citizenship," by Woodrow Wilson; "The Profit-sharing Labor Unions of Antwerp," by J. H. Gore; "How to Bring Work and Workers Together." All of the above is sold for 25 cents. The Forum is published by the Forum Publishing Company, Union square,

New York city. -American readers of English novels are so accustomed to fox-hunting episodes that they may enjoy learning something more of the sport than is given them in fiction. It is on this theory, presumably. that Harper's Magazine offers a descriptive chapter on the subject of riding to hounds. In it are given full details of the sport, descriptions of the best estates for hunting, of the dogs used, and of the intense excitement that follows the sight of a fox breaking from cover. Alfred Parsons writes about early summer in Japan. T. Mitch-ell Prudden has a geological paper de-scribing some records of the ice age about New York. "Where Time Has Slumbered" is the title of a study by Julian Ralph of mountain life in West Virginia. John White Chadwick has an interesting acwriting of Thanatopsis. Owen Wister adds himself to the ranks of those who, through the medium of fiction, defend the regular army against its critics, official and upoffi-cial. He contributes a spirited story of a capture of Indians, in which General Crook figures as the hero. Other short stories are by W. E. Norris, Brander Matthews and Mary E. Wilkins.

The North American Review for September gives its first pages to an article on the late Lord Chief Justice of England, by his successor. Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, discusses "The Results of Democratic Victory" with the ability of a literary man who has all the facts. Bishop Spalding rather takes the defensive for his church against the A. P. A., which seems to be attracting little attention now, W. H. Mallock contributes a thoughtful arti-cle on "The Significance of Modern Pov-Three papers on "China, Japan and Corea" follow, giving much information regarding the conditions which have caused the war. Richard Mansfield furnishes an article entitled "Concerning Acting." and H. S. Maxim traces "The Development of Aerial Navigation," as if there were such a Mark Twain seems to have concluded his defense of the wife of the poet Shelley in a manner which will lead the writer to conclude that the eulogist of a man who attacks a woman always succeeds in bespotting his hero. The Review is published at No. 3 East Fourteenth street, New York city. F. Marion Crawford turns his attention to descriptive work now and then, and in the September Scribner has a chapter of impressions, history and present condition of Bar Harbor, which makes very good reading, even to those who have not visited that resort. Carl Lumboltz writes of Tarahumari life and customs, the Tarahumaris being Indians of Sierra Madre range. Octave Thanet continues her entertaining studies of American types, this time treating of the people in cities. James T. Fields writes another pleasant chapter about old books and persons and things therewith connected. The "Tapestry of the New World" is a curious study of patchwork quilts and resultant folk lore, by Fanny D. Bergen. The first half of a two-part story by Thomas Nelson Page is given. A short story by Herbert Laws Webb and an installment of Cable's serial make up the fiction of the number.

Music for September is rather an international number. For those who are interested in the music of different countries there are articles on "Music in Norway." "Chinese Music," "Ancient and Modern Music of the Jewish People," "Russian Music" and "Music in Germany." A valuable list of musical books is given, arranged so that there are the names of books for the trained musician and another for younger pupils. The subject of mechanical aids still agitates the teacher, and John S. Van Cleve, who is an authority on musical subjects, gives his ideas in a well written paper. The frontispiece is a portrait of W. S. B. Matthews, editor of Music.

"The Spirit of '76" is the title of a new monthly publication "devoted to the principles, incidents and men of '76 and colonial time." It will be the literary organ of the various societies made up of descendants of revolutionary sires, and its purpose is to inculcate patriotism. 14 Lafayette place,

DAY FOR THE BULLS

WHEAT MADE A SPURT AT THE CLOSE, ADVANCING 7-8c.

Corn Took Its Cue from Wheat and Added 1 3-Se to the Price of May-Oats and Pork Also Gained.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 .- Wheat suddenly recovered from its tired feeling near the close to-day, and with good buying on the spurt finished %c higher for December. The other markets sympathized and corn closed 1%c higher for May, September oats gained from dropping off in view of the almost total cessation of trading during what is generally the busiest time of the day. There was a spurt of activity on it becoming known that a well-known crop expert, who has given his particular lattention to the condition of the Northwestern spring wheat grop, estimated the total yield of the three States of North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota at not to exceed 60,000,000 bushels, basing his estimate on the actual thrashing returns. A tone of confidence quickly supplanted the early feeling of uncertainty and the price of December, which had been confined all forenoon to a range of from 56%c to 57%c, rose with considerable vim in the trading to 57%c, and spurted at the close to 57%c. The buying near the close was heavy, J. C. Schwartz being credited with taking 750000 bushels and credited with taking 750,000 bushels and other traders buying liberally. To-day it was corn that took its cue from wheat. Some of the big local shorts who have for a week made such a poor attempt at manufacturing a bear market out of sorely mangled crop reports were the best buyers to-day. The market was exceed-ingly dull until after 12 o'clock, but it then became quite active. It was at no time other than very firm, and toward the close it became excitedly strong. September, from 57c, sold off to 56%c, but afterward rose to and closed at 58%c. May kept very close to 55c until within an hour of the se, when it rose in quick high as 56%c, and it closed at 56c. Receipts were fairly liberal, numbering 345 cars and 44,000 bushels by canal.

Cash oats met with a fair sale and were steady to a shade firmer. The stronger feeling extended into the speculative crowd, with a good disposition to sell and buying orders about equal. The higher prices were principally influenced by the movement of Transfers, 12; consideration...... $26,030 the corn market. September, at the start, at 30c, later 29% c was touched, and at noon it was again selling at 30c, closing at 301/c.

Provisions opened fairly firm, but the packers had more than enough for sale to supply the demand. The afternoon strength the list which will interest may doubt if he or she is in touch with the thought and movements of the day. Judge Cooley presents "The Lessons of the Recent Civil Disorders" with a common that touched lard and ribs.

and 3,000 Western. There was no percepti-ble change in prices. Good to choice steers were not very numerous, and, as a fair demand existed, holders were in a position to get at least steady prices. A few bunches of very prime beeves were offered and there were sales at $5,90@6. But while those prices were paid in a few instances, almost the entire supply went out of sellers' hands below $5.40, steers principally at $3.7544.75, cows largely at $1.25@1.75 and Westerns mostly at $364. Anything not good enou; n to bring more than $5.25 remained wear and were slow sale. The arrivals for the expired part of this week have been about 5,500 more than for the same time last week, and all grades except the very best are 15 625c lower than they were last Thursday. There was a strong market for good hogs. Not a very considerable part of the offerings classed as such, and they were in demand at yesterday's quotations; in fact, higher figures were paid for a few hogs of prime quality. There were two or three trades at $6.45 and one at $6.50. But while the right kinds were active and strong, common grades remained under neglect, and if they were not quotably low-er they were at least exceedingly weak. Merchantable lots sold at $5.5006.50; from $5.8006.40, taking the bulk. Light-weights sold as high as $6.25, and choice mediumweights at $5.40. The close was steady. Very little change took place in the sheep market to-day. There were buyers at steady, full prices for all fairly choice muttons, while poor and common kinds were as dull and weak as before. From $1@1.50 for poor stuff, prices ranged upward to 83.25 @3.50 for choice wethers. The lamb market was active at $1.50@4.25, with sales principally at $3.25@4. August Layman and Caroline Sinker. CALIFORNIA FRUITS.

Londoners Can Now Enjoy Them Fourteen Days from the Tree. Washington Special to Chicago Record. A new enterprise which will be watched with interest is the shipment of fresh fruit by the trainload to London. Two cargoes have already gone and the third will be carried by the steamer Paris, which sails on Wednesday for Southampton. A train of sixteen refrigerator cars, carrying 45,000 packages of pears, plums, peaches, grapes, and other fruit, left California last Monday morning and will reach New York on Tuesday if nothing happens. The cars will be switched alongside the steamer on the dock of the American line and the fruit will be transferred with the slightest exposure possible to the great refrigerating compartments of the Paris, where it will be stowed away until its arrival at Southampton. Then a special train of refrigerator cars will be waiting and the next moraing the fruit will appear on the breakfast tables in London, fourteen days from the tree. But by maintaining an even temperature it can be almost perfectly preserved and the wastage on the first two cargoes is said to have been less than is usual with that delivered in New York. That is probably due to the fact that greater care was taken in selecting and packing the London But the experiment is a success. It has been demonstrated that California can furnish Covent Garden market with fruit just as well as the isle of Jersey and at prices that admit of profitable competition. The shipments will now be a regular thing and all three of the steamers of the American line will have trainloads of California fruits down to see them off on Wednesday of each week. It has long been the practice for the stewards of these and other steamers to take on enough oysters, fruit and other perisable food at New York to last the entire voyage, and people comoysters came from that they are off the half shell every day at dinner and the lobster; and soft-shell crabs, which taste as fresh as if they were eaten in Fulton market. The refrigerators of the ships are kent at a temperature that arrests decay and the oysters, lobsters and crabs are taken on alive and packed in sea weed, over which buckets of salt water are thrown every morning. Some years ago an attempt was made to ship fruit across the sea, but it was abandoned because of the excessive freight retes and the great wasteage, but since then it has been discovered that fruit does not recuire a cold but an even temperature, and the American steamship line has made contracts with the fruit growers by which they agree to land the fruit in Londen for $700 a car, which is about 60 cents a basket for pears, peaches or grapes. The new steamer now building at Cramps' yard for this line will be especially fitted up for the fruit business, and the foreign lines will undoubtedly fall into the trade as soon as it proves profitable.

For Services Rendered. Rochester Democrat and Chronicle. Cleveland would be justified in sending in a bill for services rendered to the Re-publican party. The campaign documents he has written are invaluable. THE INDIANAPOLIS

Daily, Sunday and Weekly

The Journal is first of all a newspaper. Its primary object is to publish the news, and to procure this it spares no pains or expense. Besides the service of the Associated Press, which covers foreign countries as well as the entire United States, it has a corps of special correspondents, who give attention to those events and occurrences that are likely to be of particular interest to the Indiana public.

Its Washington Bureau

Was established for the purpose of looking after matters in which the State and its people are concerned, and is under the management of a gentleman well acquaint. ed with the local business and political issues.

It has a correspondent in every cown of importance in the State, and is constantly increasing its facilities for obtaining information from every quarter.

Its staff of city reporters is large, and its local departments are unexcelled. As a newspaper it is far better equipped than any other in the State, and welcomes comparison with its contemporaries in any and all of its departments. With all, it endeavors to be accurate and trustworthy, printing the news, whatever it may be, without personal or partisan bias.

THE SUNDAY

Is a paper that gives more attention to miscellaneous literature than the other editions, and contains in its sixteen, and often twenty, pages a variety of choice reading matter that satisfies the most exacting taste.

The Indiana State Journal

(Weekly Edition) is a large 56-column paper, carefully edited, with & special view to the wants of Indiana readers, both in its general and political news. Its subscription price, $1.00, with reduction to clubs, places it within the reach of all, and no campaign contribution can be so effective as when spent in furnishing this paper to readers who need Republican doc-
